A lot 50x100 feet at the corner of Fifth avenue and Forty-fifth street, New York city, brought $419,000, or $82 per square foot.

A preacher of this section, now deceased, used to tell the following. He said he was in Letcher county preaching on one occasion when he stopped at a farm house to get his dinner. While eating, the lady of the house inquired his business, and he replied, "I am hunting the lost sheep of Israel."

She left the room and in a few minutes returned with her husband, when she said, "This man is hunting some stray sheep, and I'll let that old long wool ram that's been around here is his'n."

"No, sister, you don't understand me. I am hunting sinners; those for whom Christ died."

"And is he dead?" she queried.
"Yes," replied the man of God, astonished at her ignorance.

"And he died, too, I reko."

"O, yes; long, long ago."

"There, now, old man, I told you we'd die in ignorance for not taking a newspaper."

The reverend gentleman who used to tell this story said it was an actual fact, and when one realizes how little a majority of the people seem to care for their country papers, he is forced to believe with the lady that many will "die in ignorance for not taking a newspaper."—Hazel Green Herald.

The Weekly Record of Middleboro, has recently been launched, by C. J. Cunningham. It is a three column folio, and has a resemblance of the first issue of the TIMES, it being the same in size. The following information is its salutary:

In presenting this, our first issue, to the public, we make no apologies for the crudeness of either the mental or mechanical part of it, for with this issue we have established a precedent in the history of journalism, from the fact that within one week, without any previous experience whatever. We have edited and printed this first issue of the Weekly (not weekly) Record.

Two huge subterranean caves have been discovered in the Champlaid river bottom, near Lawrenceburg. One is walled with dressed stone, doubtless the work of a prehistoric man.

Experience

Teaches us much

The wise and prudent man profiteth by the experience of others. We have but one way to judge the future and that is by the past, and we should profit by our mistakes, and be guided by the lamp of experience. Experience teaches all that quick cash sales and small profits is the modern way of conducting a successfull business. I do business in this way, which makes it to the buyers interest to see me when needing any thing in General Merchandise.

MATRIMONIAL.

Mr. J. P. Wright, of this place, and Mrs. Nannie Gentry, widow of Nathan Gentry, of Richmond, were quietly married early Tuesday morning at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. Sam Barnes, near Richmond. They immediately left for the groom's home near this village. The groom is 76 years old; the bride is 62. Mr. Wright's marriage was quite a surprise to his nearest relatives.

Something Unusual.

Mr. C. B. Henry, brakeman on the R. N. L. & B. freight train, a resident of Richmond and 28 years of age, says he never passed through a toll gate in his life, and is yet to ride his first horse. Is it possible to find another man of his age, well and hearty, in this land of horses and toll roads, who has never been on a horse or passed through a toll gate?—Richmond Climax.

A miserable imposter is working his game on some of our neighbor cities, selling from house to house a salve which he guarantees to cure warts, says the Johnson County Herald. All sensible people know the only way to remove a wart is to rub it with a half potatoe which is afterward to be buried by a cross-eyed negro in the northwest corner of the grave. Cheap sugar, any jars of jam yard at midnight during the will be put up this season. J. E. Burgher, Jr. sells the Mason fruit jars.

A Kentucky woman hearing that her cook had applied for a divorce, asked what was the reason for so doing. "Well man and wife has got along pretty well, but one got me sister a divorce for $11,50, and I thought I'd just git me one while they were cheap."—Ex.

that free coinage would drive capital away from the United States
it is a fact that free silver Mexico is the greatest field in the world to day for the investment of foreign capital. While the United States is on the retrograde under the gold standard, Mexico never knew such extraordinary prosper-

An Editor's Woes.

The man who imagines that a newspaper man doesn't have troubles of his own, besides having often to share those of other people, have missed connection somewhere, or else his trolley is off. If he writes a thing and withholds names, the probability is that it will fit a dozen or more people, and he will lay 'em all after him, or else necessitate a coroner's inquest. If he calls names he will have the man concerned and all his friends and relatives camping on his trail. If he writes up a case in court and it appears unfavorable to one defendant, he and his lawyer will call around to demand a retraction, although the article may be consistent with the decision of the court. If little Johnnie dies, he must have two sticks of slush to carry to heaven with him as a commendation, and if James and Mary marry they must be pretty, popular and prominent or other relatives will know the reason why. If aunt Sue gets sick the newspaper man is expected to know about it, and if uncle Manuel goes to his old home on a visit he must lead the personal column as one of the "pioneer and most respectable citizens." He must keep the names of his friends out of the police court report—and all of their friends, and if he suppresses a name a hundred times and then puts it in once the latter will outweigh the former several tons, and he will get kicked just the same. If Brown dies Jones it must be kept out of the paper, for it might hurt Jones' credit, and it usually fails to add to the credit of the newspaper man.—Exchange.

Along early in the spring the Democrats of Pike county nominated a free silver Republican preacher as a candidate for the Legislature. About the same time the Republicans nominated a Republican preacher for the same office. From some cause the Democratic candidate fled and they had to nominate another candidate which they did, and named Rev. W. L. Bolt as the man. It seems that Pike county has a mania for nominating preachers for office, and if they are as slick citizens as Parson Hopkins, Pike will soon be noted for its hypocritical preachers preachers. Our observation in the past 30 years leads us to believe that a political preacher is the most unreliable man we have, and is a curse both to the church and the party to which he belongs.—Morgan County Messenger.
